In Appreciation

In appreciation not only for his years of service but also for his patience and kind consideration for all, especially the students, we the 1979 Annual Staff would like to dedicate this year book to Mr. Clifford Long.

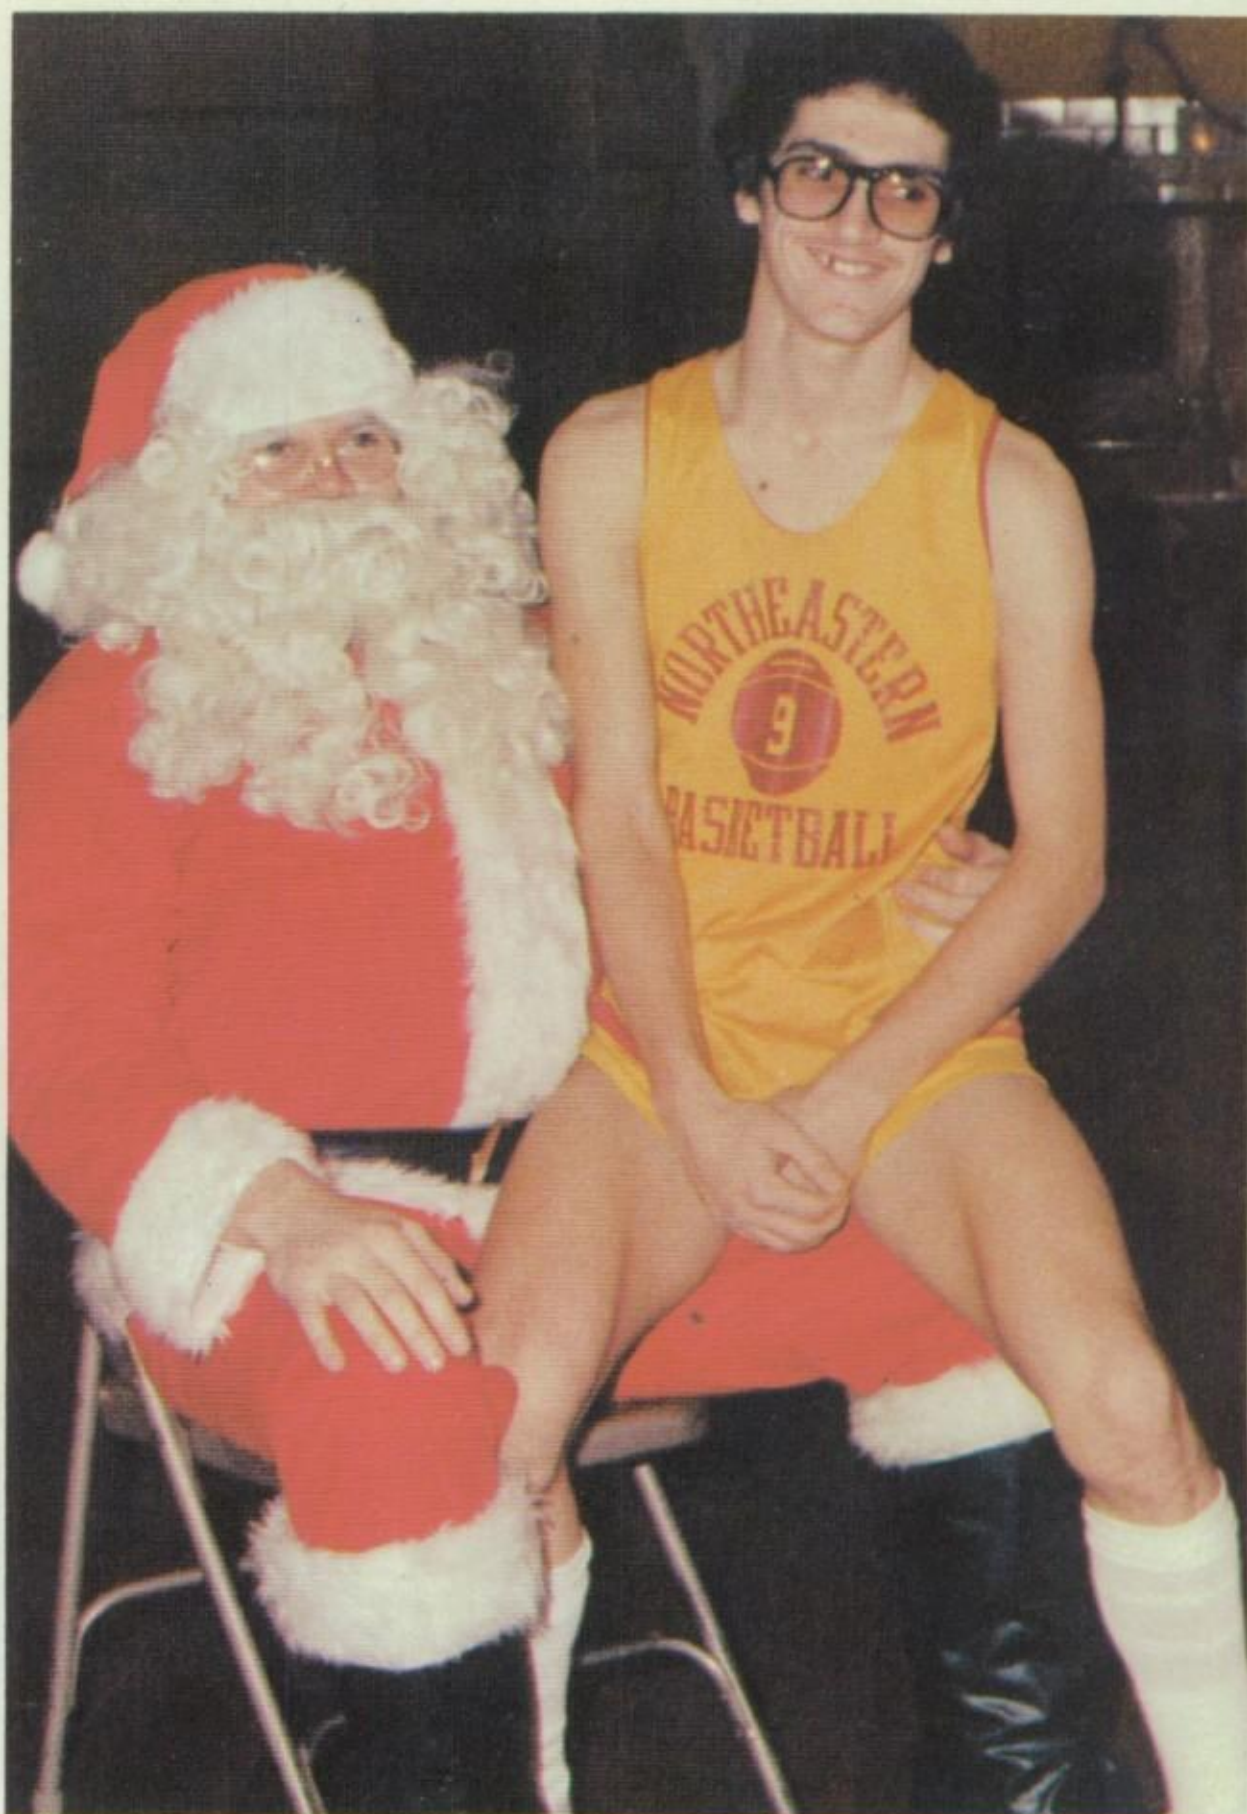

Mr. Long's dedication to his work has served as an example to the students at Northeastern for over ten years, and we know that no matter where he goes or what he does this characteristic will prevail. Through this dedication, our intent is not only to recognize Mr. Long but is also our goal to convey the idea that it take the participation of everyone at Northeastern to create the atmosphere of unity that exists at our school.

Mr. Clifford Long is just one of the many people that make Northeastern more than a direction.

Northeastern (north-east-ern) — the general direction between north and east. This definition may be enough for Mr. Webster but we think it is more . . . More than a direction. All in our own way, over 500 unique somebodies — long hairs, wedge cuts or curly tops coming by bus, van or walking from everywhere in general to somewhere special.

It's the little things like finding the overdue book you were sure you turned in or swore you never signed out, that makes Northeastern more than a direction. Signs keeping us believing, ornaments reminding us of the season and long lunch lines proving patience is a virtue, all make a typical school like Northeastern untypical.

Northeastern . . . More Than a Direction

*It's the intangibles Spirit, Pride,

Although it has been said individuality is the key in life, we found the intangibles friendship, spirit and pride made individuality a bit less important and brought unity into the forefront. The cornerstones for this year of rebuilding were the intangibles. Friendships that won't soon be forgotten were made and helped to make Northeastern's search for a new direction easier. Talking with friends at lunch or studying with someone made the day go faster. Spirit peaked this year as pep rallies had more enthusiasm than previously and signs cheering the team on appeared in the halls with more frequency. A greater sense of pride was felt whether you were marching down the football field or cheering with the cheerleaders.

Incapable of being touched, yet always within grasp, these intangibles, spirit, pride, and friendship made Northeastern more . . . more than a direction.

Signing up to chart a personal course, we were always hoping to make the trip smoother in the right direction. Whether in Industrial Arts, Chemistry lab or Art, we were constantly searching for the right directors that would make everything blend in harmony and unity.

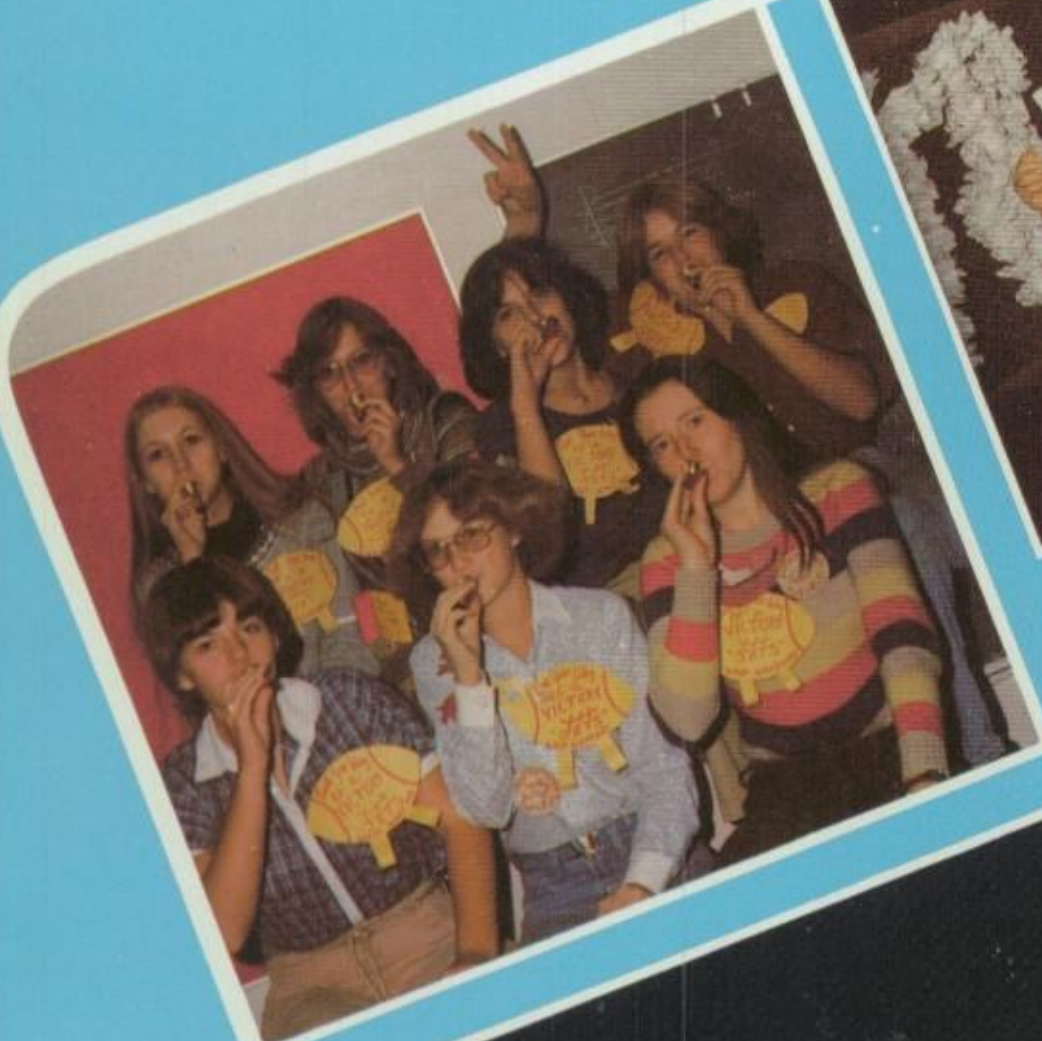

We found ourselves not only preparing for the future, but also preparing for now. Hours of band practice were spent getting ready for the special performance. Tension, anxiety, and pressure built up during the minutes and hours spent preparing yourself for the big game or race.

Search and preparation were a large part of our high school years. We strived to be sure we knew what we wanted out of life and were prepared to face obstacles we would have to conquer as we went our own direction, searching for the right route.

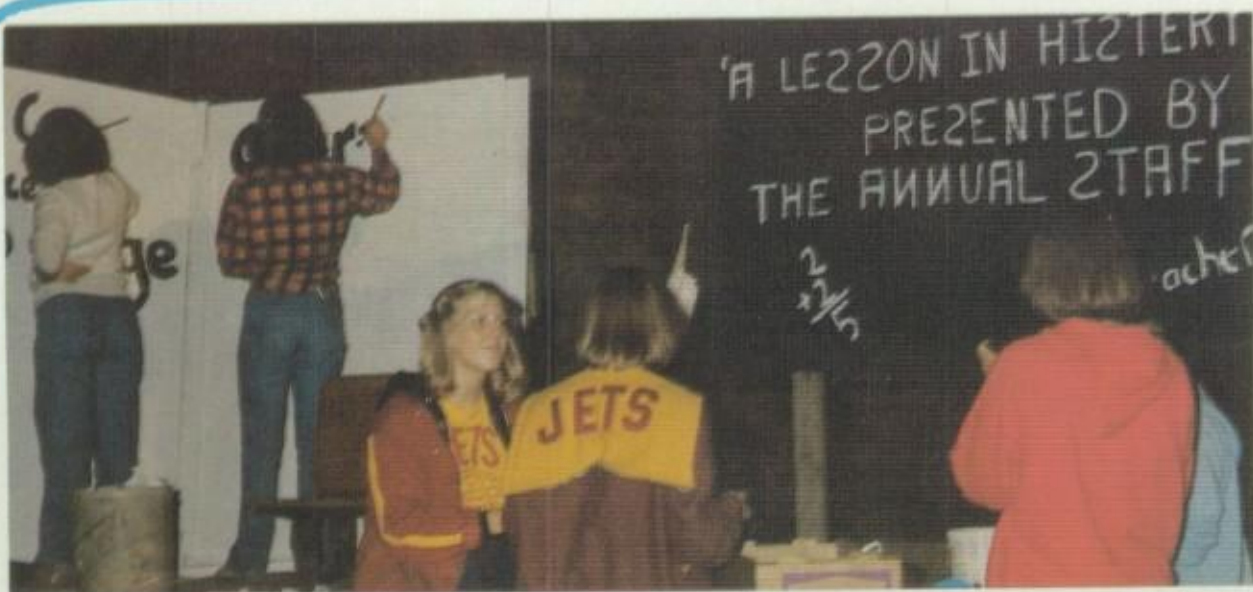

This year we were joining clubs, building floats, participating in variety shows, finding our own way, our own direction. Each event made North-eastern more than just a mere definition in a book, it made us more... more than a direction.

HOME COMING COURT: Donna Smith, Harvey Haddix, Suzie Hunt, King Floyd Mann, Queen Kim Comer, Debbie Runyan, n Haley, Renee Jewett, Tom Miller, Susan Haley, Kevin Jewett, Debbie Laywell, Tim Bowens.

A return to more traditional events hallmarked the Homecoming of '78. Rising expenses was the chief reason for this change, and many clubs here at Northeastern worked on projects intended to keep costs down.

The FHA sold the traditional homecoming flower, Mums, to take place of more expensive corsages. A contest was held among various clubs to see which could build the most attractive float. Members of the Homecoming Court rode on these floats in the pre-game show instead of the corvettes used in past parades.

1. Members of the Annual Staff utilize their artistic abilities to decorate their float. 2. Jets triumph with a 26-0 victory over Northwestern's Warrior's. 3. The Band's unique badges were heard as well as seen on Badge Day. 4. Suzie Hunt and Tom Miller good-naturedly don their favorite hats to back the Jets on Hat Day. 5. The 1978 Homecoming Queen, Miss Kim Comer. 6. Couples dance to the music of "Sterling." 7. The winning float, courtesy of the Annual Staff.

Homecoming week at Northeastern proved to be a fun-filled and exciting one with activities planned nearly every day. Wednesday, NE's clubs were given a chance to show their creativity by wearing badges symbolic of their club. On Friday, students displayed their school spirit by wearing Jet T-shirts and jeans.

After the exciting week, spirit was high on the night of the football game as the Homecoming Court and last year's queen were driven onto the field upon floats designed by clubs here at NE. The royalty was then assembled onto midfield where Miss Kim Comer was crowned our 1978 Homecoming Queen. Much to the crowd's delight, "Whip the Warriors," our Homecoming theme, came true as the Jets defeated Northwestern's Warriors with a score of 26-0.

The Homecoming Dance on Saturday night was such a success, everyone agreed that all the work put into the dance was well worth the effort. The casual dress code, the first of its kind, may have been one reason for its success. The evening was highlighted as Floyd Mann was announced the 1978 Homecoming King. As a memento, couples posed for pictures against a "harvest moon" backdrop.

Homecoming '78 will be an unforgettable memory in the hearts of Northeastern students for years to come.

1. Cheryl Fuson attempts to interest football fans in the purchase of a Mum.
2. Patty McDonough and Todd Bumgardner appear to be enjoying themselves as they sit one out at the dance.
3. The Alumni Band performed a medley of songs during the halftime show at the game.
4. "Sterling" provided the musical entertainment at this year's dance.
5. Northeastern royalty: last year's Homecoming Queen and King pose alongside the new Queen and her escort.
6. The Spirit Stick is retrieved by the crowd during the eventful Homecoming Pep Rally.
7. Queen candidate Renee Jewett rides upon the FHA float in the pre-game parade.
8. Tears of joy stream down Kim Comer's face as she is announced the 1978 Homecoming Queen.

MARCHING BAND

Northeastern High School's Marching Band started off their 1978 season with a different twist. During the week of August 20-26, all the members of the marching band attended a band camp held at Rio Grande College in Rio Grande, Ohio. Among the things they practiced during their stay were new field formations, different marching steps, and unique ways to hold their instruments while marching. All agreed the camp was beneficial to the band, and said they would like to go back next year in spite of the rigorous practices and 6:00 a.m. risings.

During the course of the 1978-79 school year, the NEHS Marching Band performed in 9 football games. This entails beginning practice a week before school even begins. Then, after the completion of a good marching season, they performed in a band contest held at Shawnee High School, attended by 7 area high school bands.

The band took part in many parades and concerts this year. They marched in the South Vienna Corn Festival, Catawba and Springfield Memorial Day parades. The Christmas concert combined the talents of both the band and choir into one program. The annual Spring Fling concert featured a display from NE's art department and a musical arrangement by SV's Junior High Band.

An all-day trip to Cedar Point in June concluded a busy year for the Marching Jets!

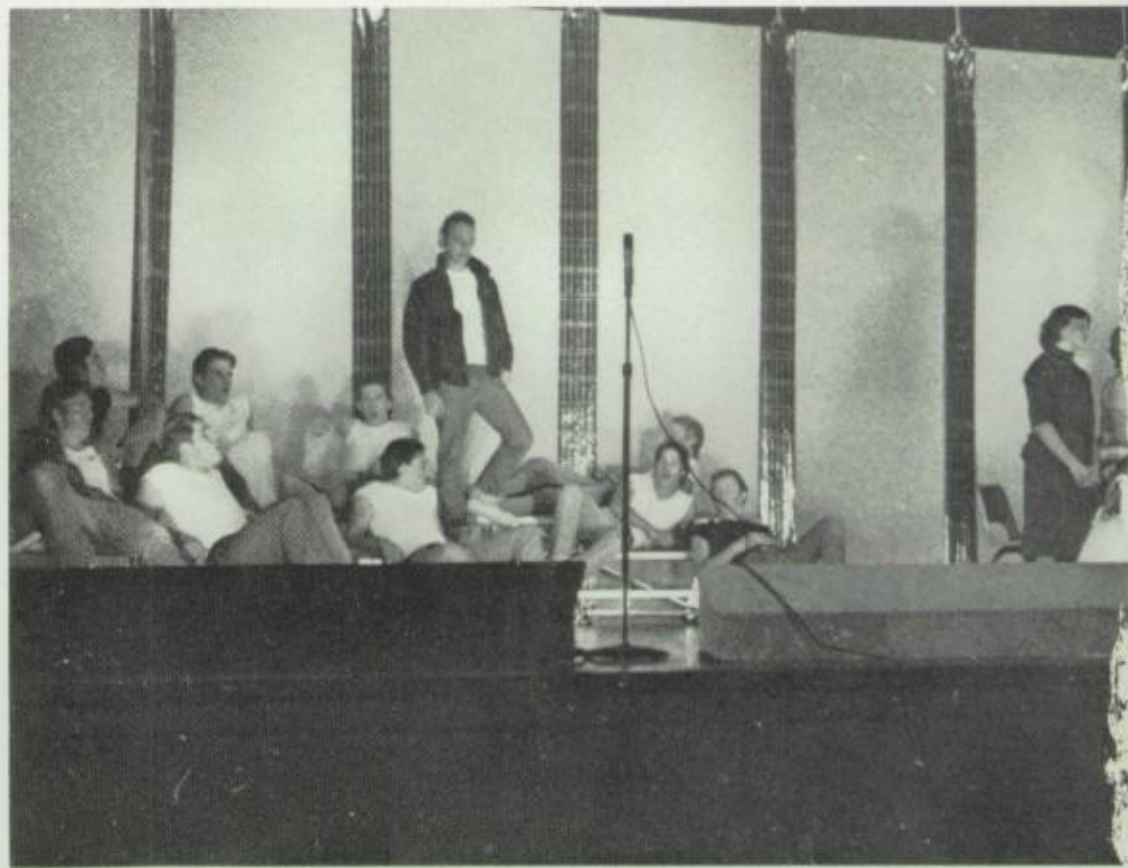

VARIETY SHOW

The word "variety" accurately described Northeastern's second annual Variety Show, presented by the Thespians. It offered entertainment of all sorts. From hillbillies to show girls, 50's greasers to a classical flute selection, this show contained something for everyone!

Many hours of hard work were put into the production which entailed after-school rehearsals, set painting, and gathering of costumes and make-up.

With the cooperation of the faculty and students, the Thespian Troupe looks forward to putting on an equally entertaining show next year!

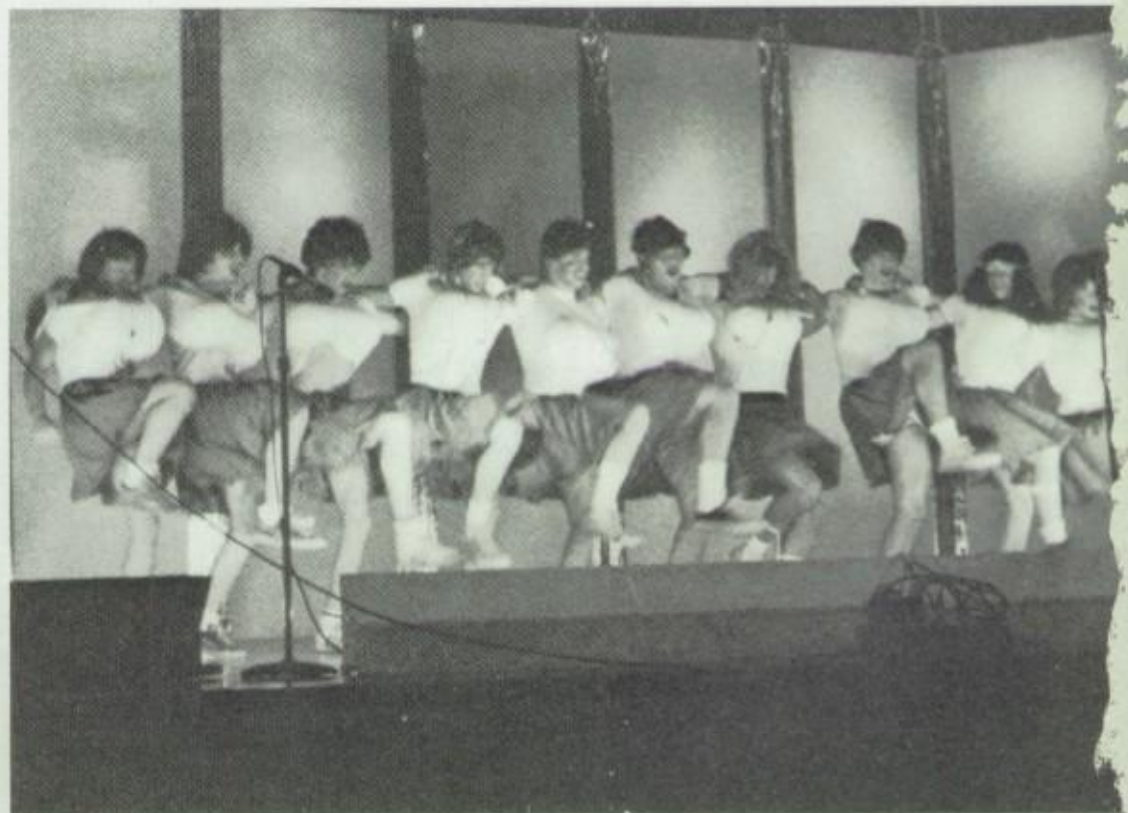

1. and 2. Missy Howard and Chris Entler offer different versions of their summer romance in the song, "Summer Nights." 3. Aren't they lovely? Members of our Jet football team show their best side. 4. Modern dance enthusiasts, Jill Carpenter and Tonya Smedley, disco-down to the strains of "Boogie Oogie-Oogie." 5. A country-western medley of songs were performed by Bill Powell and Frank Ballard. 6. Lending her singing abilities to the evening's entertainment, Angie McGraw sings, "If Ever I See You Again." 7. Northeastern's faculty show their inclination toward the "finer arts" in their rendition of, "Little Brown Jug." 8. Lois Strothman and John Titus played, "The Entertainer" on the flute and piccolo. 9. Some of the girls from the 50's Grease number clown around during rehearsal.

ANNUAL STAFF

The Northeastern Annual Staff has felt proud to present the 1979 Pilot to their fellow classmates. We were presented with a challenge to produce a 1979 yearbook that would surpass the previous 1978 edition. The 1978 edition haunted us while we worked, after all their book was selected as a National Model Samplebook.

To meet the challenge, Tanya Brooks — managing editor, and Susan Haley — activities editor, attended a week-long session at Morehead University in order to expand their knowledge of yearbook layouts and techniques. In addition, the entire staff attended a workshop at Kettering Fairmont West. Then the fun began, working during study halls and after school.

All of this hard work has produced the 1979 edition of the Pilot. We feel we have met the challenge, we hope you do too.

1. Janet Rowley and Sherry Hutchins turn from their work for a quick shot.
2. Annual staff members Lori Shearer, Leslie Roberts, Jane Runyan and Tanya Brooks work on their prize winning Homecoming Float.
3. Susan Haley, Amy Smith, and Tammy Bowman select which negatives they will need printed.
4. Julie Andrus carefully plans out her work.
5. Jane Runyan works on her advertising layout.

SADIE HAWKINS

On April 21, for the second year in a row, the Varsity "N" sponsored the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Along with games like the three-legged race, the wheel barrow race, and the annual pie throw, there was music provided by "Flyer" and the hitchin' post at Marryin' Sam's.

The festivities of the traditional Sadie Hawkins Dance proved to be fun and exciting. And again the Varsity "N" showed their capability in planning a successful dance.

1. Miss Gorey? 2. Mr. Murry? 3. Joe Clark? All victims of the annual pie throw. 4. The Sadie's music was provided by "Flyer". 5. HEY! Let's have a paper fight! 6. Leslie Roberts and Dennis Shearer. Siamese Twins? 7. On your marks, get set, wheels away! 8. Tonya Smedley and Clark Falloon race to the finish line. 9. Vicki Wyatt and Mike Schafer getting hitched at Marryin' Sam's. 10. Tonya Hensley and Neal Walley chugging along. 11. Design of the Sadie Hawkins tickets by Lori Shearer.

DRAMA CLUB

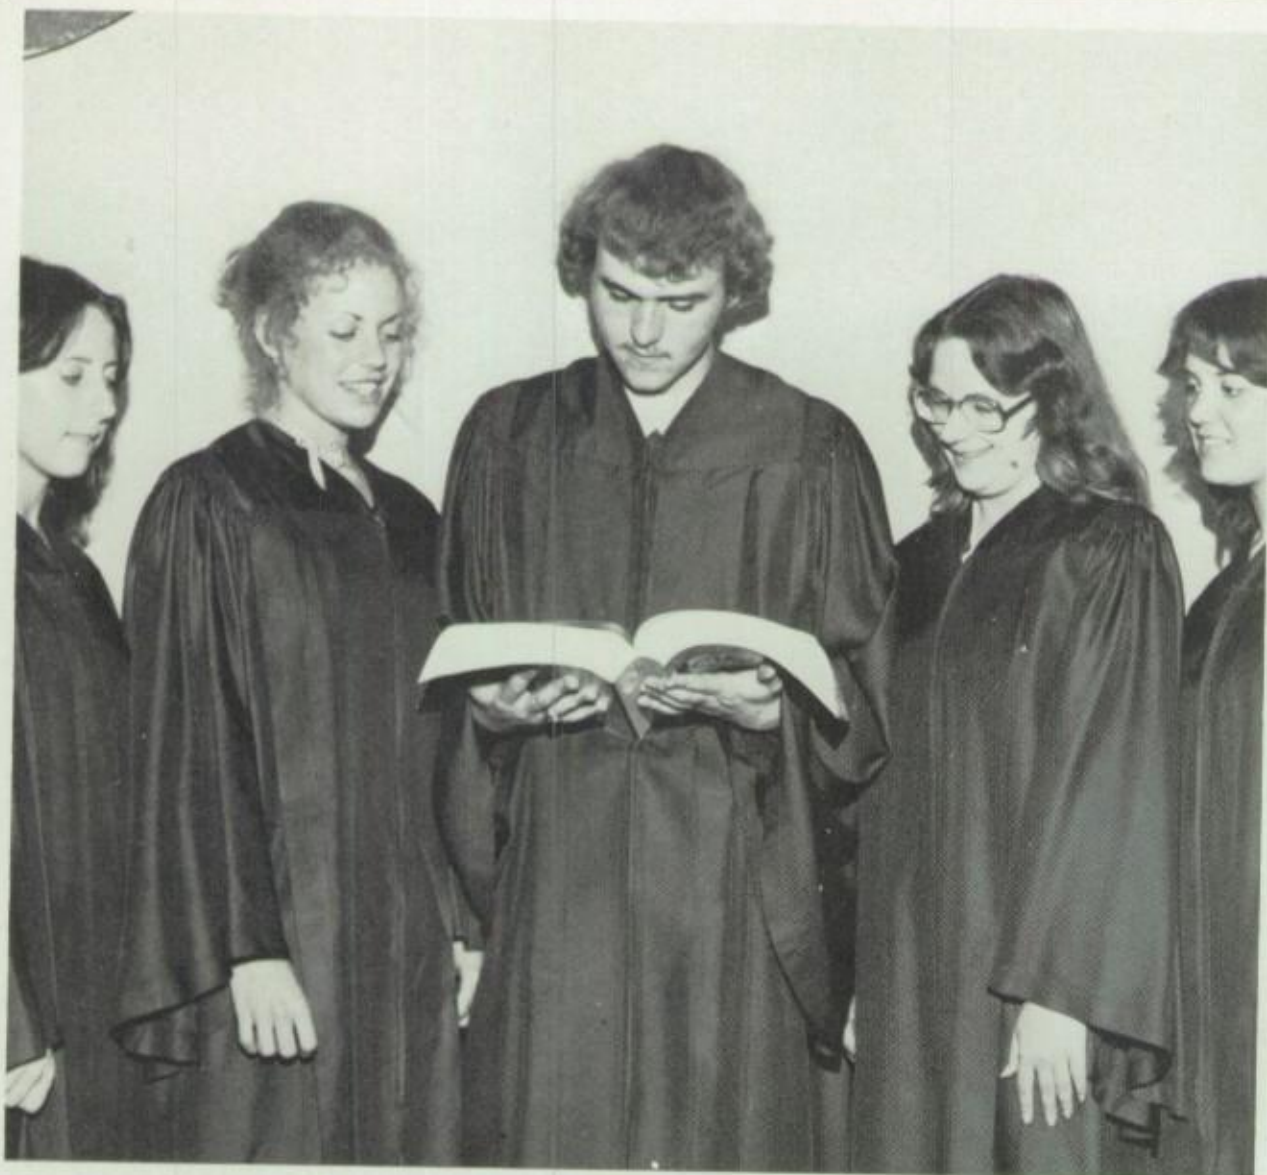

The 1978-79 Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Marsha Wray and Mrs. Luanne Bean, successfully produced both a variety show and a spring play to the delight of the students and faculty. This 50 member troupe is one of the largest and hardest working clubs in the school.

The second annual variety show was held on November 18. Both students and faculty participated in various acts before a full house in Northeastern's auditorium.

The spring play, held on April 30 and 31, was a mystery-comedy farce entitled "The Butler Did It" by Tim Kelly. A society hostess, Miss Maple, played by Lois Strothman, invites seven famous detective writers to a weekend house party at Ravenswood Manor, a mansion located on a secluded island, Turkey Island. When one of her guests is found murdered, Miss Maple and the others try to find the murderer, making for a hilarious sequence of events and a surprise ending.

With the positive direction the Drama Club took this year, we can see bigger and better productions coming in the future.

1. Another clue is discovered in the growing mystery.
2. Mrs. Bean advises Chris Entler how to handle a scene effectively.
3. Kathy Slygh and Cheri Farish nervously apply stage make-up on opening night.
4. "Oriental deductions" are made by Jeff Mowell.
5. Chris Entler and David Chiles, masters of disguise, don some of their stage props.
6. Murder on Turkey Island.
7. The killer is revealed.

The Northeastern Chapter of the National Honor Society ended their year by inducting 26 new members into their chapter. Proud parents, teachers, students, and guests assembled in Northeastern's gymnasium on April 8 to witness the induction of seven seniors, nineteen juniors and one honorary member, Mrs. Carole McCoy. The Society's officers explained the meaning of Leadership, Character, Scholarship, and Service, the four principles of the organization, during the ceremony, and pins were presented to the new members.

For the third year in a row, the chapter was fortunate enough to be able to send representatives from their group on a trip to Washington D.C., Lois Strothman and Jeff Smith were the ones selected to participate in the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans.

Fund raising projects were the sale of plated Social Security cards and a Car Wash. Proceeds from these activities went towards the purchase of membership cards and pins. Other services performed by the members were a tutoring service, guided orientation tours of NE for the 8th grade students of South Vienna and Rolling Hills, and assistance with the scheduling for the 1979-80 school year.

The French Club under the leadership of Mr. Harold Burt has been a very busy club during the past year. A few of their activities included Christmas caroling at the Masonic Home, a fondue party, and their annual French Banquet. The club's 25 members participate in the club's various activities.

The 35 member strong Spanish Club under the direction of Miss Marsha Wray is another active club at Northeastern.

This year's activities began with the initiation of new members. Inductees were seen wearing bull horns and mustaches. A traditional Mexican Christmas party was held at the home of Cindy Ireland on January 9, the Mexican celebration of gift-giving. A successful bake sale and a picnic in May brought an end to their full year.

The Future Nurses of America were visited this year by three interesting speakers. The first was Mr. Jon Thorsten who is the instructor for Radiologic Technology at Community Hospital. His demonstration included different forms of X-Rays and procedures in radiology. Another speaker was Elle Schaffer who is a registered nurse. She explained her duties as an institutional visitor for the Lutheran Community Services. Finally a representative from the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing, Teresa King, gave information concerning their nursing program.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club had two major projects this year. The first, on December 14, was a trip to the COSI building in Columbus, Ohio. This was a day of learning as well as fun as the members toured the many projects displayed at the science building. The second project occurred during April, as the members attempted to make money by selling packages of M&M's. Mr. Hayden, along with officers Kevin Jewett, Laura Hanson, Charbe Duncan, Mark Danewood, and Keith Eakins, worked hard to complete another successful year.

The organization of the Future Farmers of America finished a most exciting and creative year under new advisor, Mr. Ashley Swonger. The members' events began at the South Vienna Corn Festival where they sold pop and sponsored a garden tractor pull.

Delivery of the fruit which was ordered in the fall highlighted the month of December. The club sent two land judging teams to the state contest. The rural team of Sam Shuey, Jeff Mowell, Mike Schafer, and Tammie Toops placed 17th while the urban team of Todd Roberts, Mark Haerr, and Teresa Goodfellow placed fifth.

In the public speaking contest, Teresa Goodfellow finished third as she recited the FFA Creed and Todd Roberts received a silver rating for his prepared speech.

The annual FFA Parent Appreciation Banquet was held on February 24. Todd Bumgardner received the Star Chapter Farmer award while Todd Roberts was presented the Star Greenhand award. The young lady who was crowned queen for the upcoming year was Miss Sherry Hutchins. The court attendants were Tammie Toops and Paula Mann.

FARM DAY

The Annual Children's Farm Day, sponsored by the Future Farmers of America, was held at the home of member, Becky Best.

Youngsters from elementary schools in the district attended this exciting occasion. The children looked amazed as they watched a sheep being sheared, touched several farm animals, rode some of the farm equipment, and went on a hayride. The event was enjoyed by both the children and the members of the FFA who helped make the occasion a success.

1. Floyd Mann and "Chief" McDonald demonstrate how to shear a sheep.
2. Some of the children enjoy holding the ducks and chickens as Dean Hoy looks on.
3. The first graders prepare for a most exciting hayride around the Best farm.

This year, the Future Homemakers of America came out of their shells and participated in a great number of district and state activities.

Many things happened during the year to highlight the FHA. They began their year by holding a county Halloween party in Northeastern's commons, and as the year progressed they had many other activities such as a 50's dance, children's Christmas party, Daddy date night, Mother's treat, caroling for Sharonview Nursing Home, hush day, and an annual banquet.

They also took great pride in sending $160 to the Children's Hospital in Columbus, the money consisting of change donated by students during lunch hours.

The biggest highlight of the year, though, was when ten girls attended the district rally and received awards in parliamentary procedure, award of merit, chapter manual, speech, and display.

Needless to say, Future Homemakers of America's year, was one of progress.

VARSITY "N"

Varsity "N" devoted the majority of its energy to the sponsorship of the 1979 Sadie Hawkins Dance. Another share of the group's time was spent selling refreshments to the Jet's basketball fans. To plan and organize both of these functions, the group met during the activity period on a rather regular basis.

BLOCK "N"

One of the biggest sources of pride at Northeastern this year was the Block "N". The girls attended the Jet football games, cheering for the team and adding a spark of spirit to the fall contest. The members helped to finance their group by selling mini footballs, "Love Those Jets" badges, and football programs. For the second year in a row, the Block bought hooded sweatshirts to serve as their uniforms and keep them warm at the Friday night games.

The 41-member Block "N", led by advisor Mrs. Bean, captured first place in the 1978-79 Spirit Badge contest.

The Student Faculty Senate representatives encountered a productive and memorable year. They sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance and activities, adding a new attraction to the Homecoming parade. This year, the organization held a contest among all other clubs to determine who could build the most appealing float. The Annual Staff took the honors unanimously.

The club also sold baseball shirts with the logo of "Northeastern Pride" donned upon them.

After weeks of preparation, May 18, prom night, finally arrived. The 1979 Prom was held at the Carey building with entertainment provided by the Bob Gray Orchestra. "Everytime I Think of You," the prom theme, set the mood for an enchanting evening. The highlight of the evening came with the traditional crowning of the king and queen. This year's king was Ted Williams and queen was Suzie Hunt. After prom many couples changed to jeans and t-shirts and headed for Kart and Golf Land where they had an evening of fun and excitement. The weekend came to a perfect close when many couples gathered at John Bryan State Park for games and a picnic.

NEWSPAPER STAFF

Northeastern students returned to school this year to find a pleasant surprise awaiting them. A newspaper staff of sixteen students had been formed during the summer, and were ready to assume the task of printing a monthly school newspaper. The sixteen students were selected through a screening process by the advisor, Mrs. Pamela Ark. The staff was to meet as a regular class, five days a week, and were to receive scholastic credit for their efforts.

Determined to make the paper a success, the students worked hard to think of innovations that would set this publication apart from previous ones. One of these changes was the alteration of the paper's title from the old "Contrails" to "The Jet Gazette."

Work started on the paper as soon as school began, the first issue being released September 28, 1979. Sale price was 25 cents and subscriptions were available for two dollars. Sales remained steady for all printings, their best-selling edition being the Senior Issue.

Considering the devaluation of the dollar, we believe "The Jet Gazette" was a quarter well spent.

ASSEMBLIES

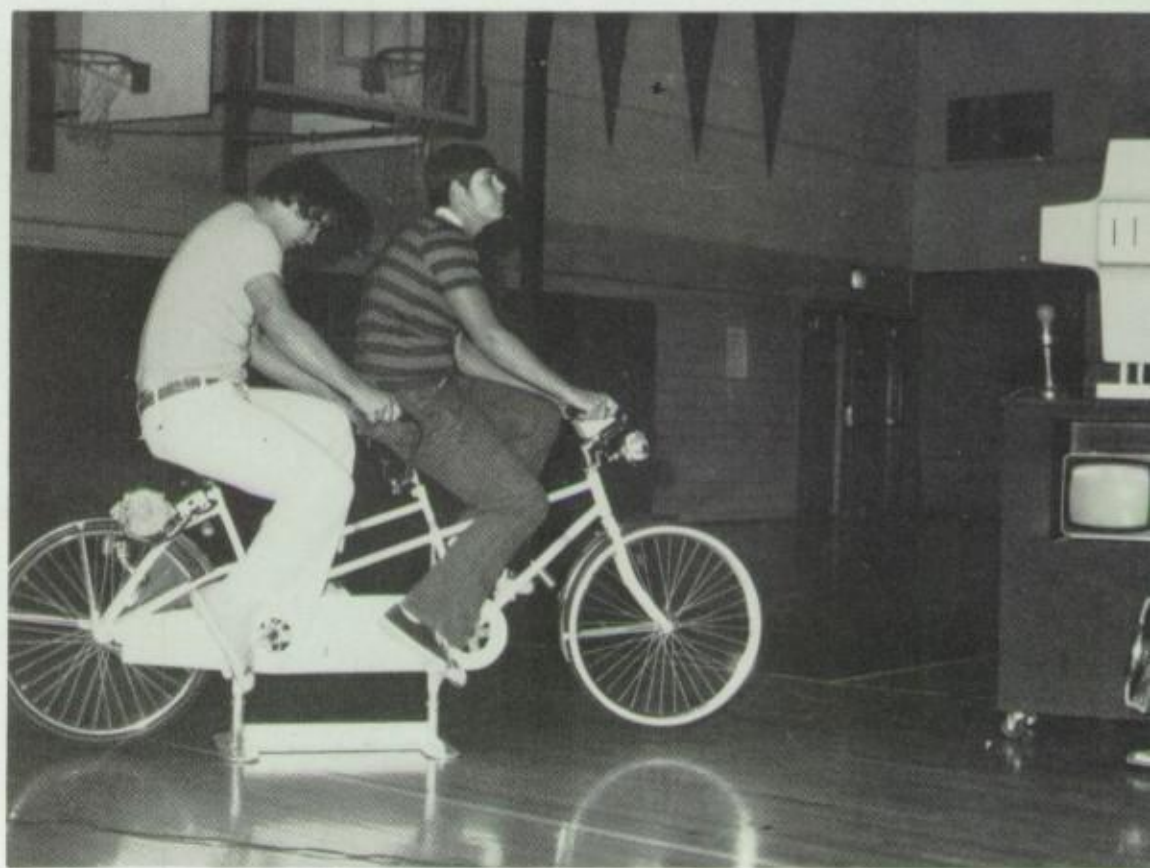

August 31, September 28 and April 2 — these are dates to be remembered in the year of 1979 here at Northeastern. It was on these dates that some very fine assemblies were presented to an approving audience of students and teachers alike.

Perhaps the most popular of these assemblies was a mini-concert given by the Freedom Jam. The group, consisting of six very talented young men, offered a patriotic look at our musical heritage. Their music, combined with comedy skits contributed towards a very enjoyable and worthwhile assembly.

An educational presentation was given by a representative from the Oak Ridge Science Assembly. We learned how electricity can be generated by riding a bicycle, and we were also shown the comparison between energy needs and our supply of natural resources on an energy cost scale.

Finally, Northeastern was visited by the Wittenberg Stage Band. Their numbers were mostly classical and jazz selections. Although most of us aren't used to that type of music, it did do something to broaden our cultural interests. A surprise appearance was made by a past member of the stage band and our new choir director, Miss Audrey Homanick.

These kinds of assemblies not only provide a break in the everyday routine, but also enrich the cultural knowledge of the students.

GRUB DAY

What a day was inscribed in the memories of the seniors that participated in the 1979 Senior Grub Day and breakfast on May 11. These seniors saw the true identity of their fellow students as clowns, bumble bees, and even flashers roaming the halls. It is a day not soon to be forgotten by 1979 seniors!

J.V.S.

Seventy-seven students from Northeastern attended J.V.S. this year to broaden their education. They began learning the skill for which their future would consist. These skills ranged from cosmetology to masonry and prepared the students for a career as soon as they graduated.

While at J.V.S. their support was still shown for the Jets but a new loyalty was added to this support, they were now also Jaguars, and supported the activities of J.V.S.

Each of these students accepted at J.V.S. have required courses to take such as English and Government along with their specialized courses. At the end of two years the students have a chance to use what they have learned by finding a part-time job or in some cases help in building a house with other fellow students.

The future for these students will be well in hand when they show their "boss-to-be" their certificate and a list of fine qualifications.

Jet Gridders Win Big Games

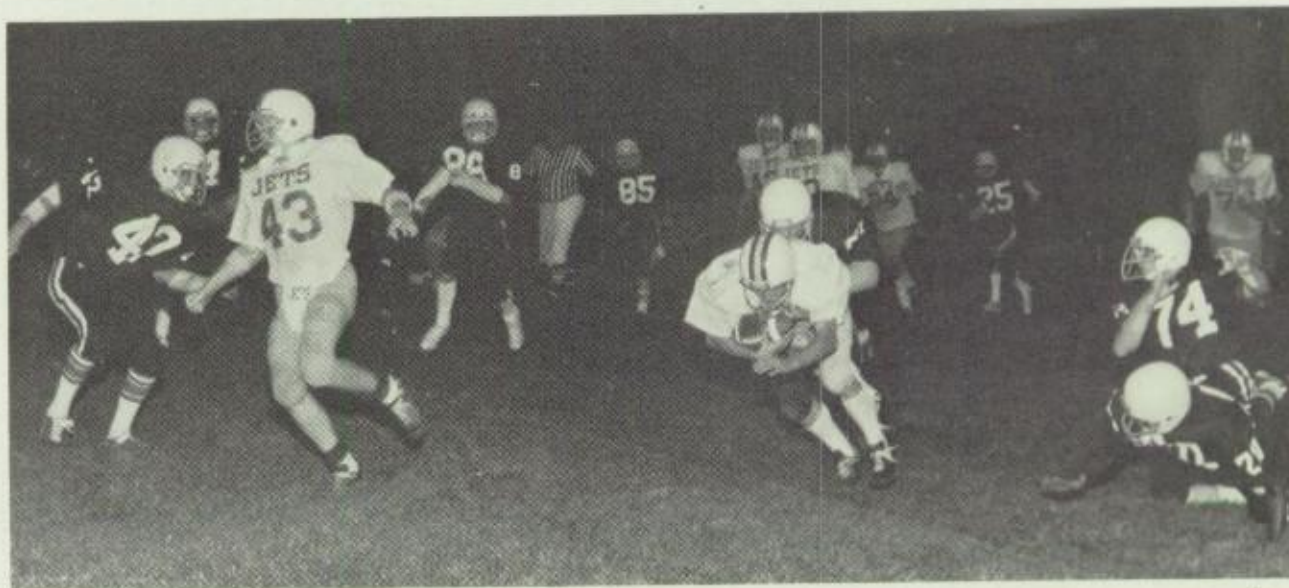

Finishing the season with a 2-8 record the Varsity Jets, under the direction of Head Coach Dale Pittenger, provided Jet fans with many thrilling moments throughout the entire season. The Jet gridders gave Northeastern a Homecoming win and their first victory of the season when they defeated the Northwestern Warriors 26-0. This was the first time the Jets held a team scoreless since they defeated the Shawnee Braves 3-0 in 1974.

The second victory and the most exciting game of the season occurred when the Jets faced their rival, the Kenton Ridge Cougars. For the first 3 quarters it appeared that it would be a sure win for the Cougars, who were ahead 12-0. In the final 8 minutes of the game Jet quarterback, Shawn Murray completed an 80 yard pass to Tom Miller putting the Jets on the scoreboard. The Cougars regained the ball but the Jet defense came through by sacking the Cougar quarterback in the Jet end zone for a 2 point safety. With 50 seconds remaining in the game, Murray and Miller once again hooked up for a 40 yard touchdown pass, and gave the Jets a 16-12 victory. (continued on page 54)

This was the second straight victory over the Cougars who have yet to defeat the Jets.

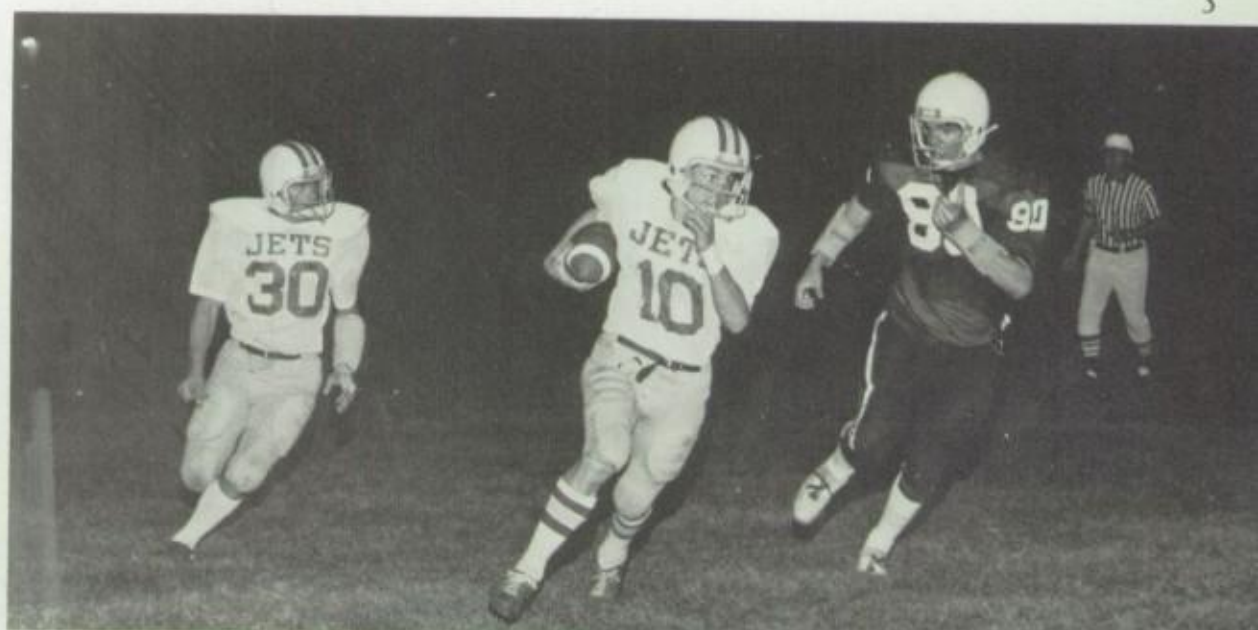

The 1978 Jets showed their improved ability in many ways, one of the most obvious was that the Jets put twice as many points on the scoreboard as last year's team.

This year's Jet football program was different as there was no freshman team and no definite reserve team. This meant that freshmen were now eligible to play both Varsity and Reserve. The reserve team consisted mainly of those who did not play Varsity the night before. This team did not get all the recognition that it deserves, as it battled through tough competition and came out with a 2-5 record.

Varsity Leads the Pride

The Varsity Cheerleaders worked extremely hard during both football and basketball seasons to boast the Jet athletes in their quest for victory.

The girls attended cheerleading camp at Ohio Northern University, where they won superior ratings for their ability to create spirit and enthusiasm. To raise spirit and add variety to our "Jet" pep assemblies, the girls often performed comical skits in anticipation of the upcoming battles.

Varsity Season "Surprising"

"Surprising" is the word that best describes the Jets varsity basketball team this season. Not only were the Jets and their fans pleasantly surprised at the improvement of the Jets over last year, but so were the Red Raiders of London and the Cougars of Kenton Ridge.

After 44 consecutive losses which extended back to the second game of the 1976-77 season against Shawnee, the Jets outplayed the Raiders in the second half to achieve a somewhat unexpected victory.

On January 19, 1979, the Kenton Ridge Cougars arrived at Northeastern, positive of an easy victory. What they didn't expect was a fired up Jet team that was not to be denied.

The final score told the tale. The Jets came, the Jets saw, the Jets conquered all; 60-55, SURPRISE!!!

Reserves Improve

This year, the Reserve Jets had the best record in several years. Although the Junior Varsity lost a couple of players to the varsity team, and some to injuries, it didn't stop them from doing their best!

This was Coach Klopfenstein's first year of coaching the Reserves and he feels that the team met and passed this year's goal.

The Freshmen finished their season with a record of five wins and nine losses. Six of those games were lost by six points or less.

Coach Reeb thinks that the little Jets all know that it takes a lot of effort to win and it will show in the years to come.

C.C. Sets . . . Meets Team Goal

The Cross Country team had two major changes this season. Mark Klopfenstein took over the position of coach for the Jets and a new course was made at Clark Lake for all home meets replacing Clarence J. Brown Reservoir.

Early in the season, the squad set a goal of becoming the first Cross Country team in Northeastern's history to qualify for the district competition. After many tiring hours of strenuous work, the determined Jets won 5th place in C.B.C. and advanced to the district contest where they earned 10th place and fulfilled their goal.

Jet Golfers Get Experience

The Jet golf team gained a lot of experience this year in league and non-league as well as tournament competition. Their overall record was two and twelve but that didn't stop Gary Stant, who shot 35 against Kenton Ridge, to tie the school record. The team defeated two teams in the Sectional meet, where Gary qualified for the District finals in Middletown. A season of defeats didn't stop the enthusiasm and spirit shown by all Jet golfers.

Wrestlers Show Improvement

Finishing the season with a win-loss record of 6-15, the 1978-79 Wrestling team was one with great determination and personal success. New head coach, Dale Pittenger, felt that the squad was much improved over last year's in that they won a dual meet in Bellefontaine as there were none last year.

Highlighting the season was the Catholic Central Invitational, the N.E. Grapplers, with the ability and pride of great athletes, finished 5th among a total of 13 teams. Rob Meade, voted M.V.P. and Honorary Captain led the squad in wins and also in pins.

Spirit Leads Boys Track

The 1979 Boys' Track team showed improvement under head coach Mark Klopfenstein, after suffering a winless season the preceding year. The boys showed the desire to compete throughout the season by winning three meets and defeating another team in the sectionals.

Roger Adkins' qualification for the sectional finals and Derrick Murray's qualification for the district meet by placing second in the two mile run were two highlights of the season.

Having only three graduating seniors, the 1979 Boys' Track team was compiled of mostly freshmen and sophomores. With nineteen underclassmen returning, next year will bring much experience and talent for the running Jets.

The boys Tennis season showed much improvement over last year. The team record was 6 wins and 12 losses, with last year's being 1 win and 14 losses. Of the 6 wins, 4 of them came against CBC schools. The squad size was relatively small, consisting of only 10 active players. Of the 10 participating members, 2 are graduating seniors and the rest will be returning next year.

Inexperience Makes Season Difficult

The 1978-79 Girls tennis team was not completely satisfied with the team record being one win and twelve losses. The team was very young, having no seniors, one junior, and all the rest underclassmen. The team had many disadvantages. So, with the cooperation of the parents, the girls had their transportation back and forth to Snyder Park, in Springfield, where all their practices and home matches were held. With all the girls returning next year the potential is present to see much improvement in the team.

'Volleyball Season Exciting'

The 1978 Volleyball team started this season with a win followed by several losses. However, after a great deal of hard work and grueling practices, the Lady Jets began showing up in the win column once again. The league this year was extremely competitive. There were several close games and matches which will be long remembered. One of the exciting events was the match with Bellefontaine. Things looked bleak for the spikers after losing the first game and falling behind 3-14 in the second. After a time out, the Jets returned to the floor and made a tremendous comeback of 16-14. A third game win gave them a hard-earned victory. Finishing with five CBC wins was a significant accomplishment for the team. The girls' determination to improve was evident throughout the entire season. Next volleyball season will bring a difficult task in replacing the experience and skill of the six graduating seniors.

"Lady Jets Set High Goals for 1979 Season"

The girls Varsity Basketball team, under the direction of Coach Jim Murray, competed throughout each game, with great pride and fierce determination. All game scores were bettered considerably over last year's scores showing much improvement in all team members.

The lady Jets enforced their spirit with a "never give up attitude." At times this cheer was difficult to uphold, but late in the season on the home court, as the girls battled the rival Northwestern Warriorettes, they obtained their long awaited victory — their only win of the '79 season.

In tournament action the girls battled against the Graham Falcons. Throughout the first half of the game, the Jets were behind by only a small margin putting forth all efforts, the girls fought desperately to overtake the lady Falcons but late in the third they fell behind as the Falcons scored to a victory.

The reserve team completed the season with a record of 8-10, doubling the number of wins they had last year. The reserve girls exhibited great team spirit showing promise to help the Varsity team next year.

Girls Set 11 New Records

The girls' track team had a much improved season this year. The first part of their training season was forced indoors due to the bad weather. However, as their statistics proved, through their hard work and dedication, the girls' season was a great success. The team proved to be a bright spot in the spring sports season with a proud record of nine victories and only one loss, which was to Greenon.

Debbie Runyan was voted the honorary captain by the team and she became the first girl at Northeastern to earn a letter all four years in a single sport. She and her teammates broke eleven of the school's fourteen previous records.

The girls placed second in the Greenon Relays and also captured second in the CBC meet at Greenon, the highest placing in our school's history for the girls' track team. The girls tied for fourth in the Sectionals, while qualifying eight girls to the District meet.

1. Robin Woodrow hands off to Debbie Runyan while beginning the anchor leg of a relay. 2. Debbie Runyan and Nancy Phipps battle for first place in the 220 as their competition trails far behind. 3. Current record holder Tanya Brooks in Discus competition at the CBC meet. 4. Record holder Patty Sebastian puts all her effort into winning the long jump. 5. The only two seniors on this year's track team were Debbie Runyan and Tanya Brooks. 6. A sequence of Janet Rowley in various stages of her high jump performance. 7. Dea Neff receives a quick handoff from Jenny Ricketts at the Greenon Relays.

Winning Season for Softball

The Jet softball team had a very exciting season. In spite of a number of cancellations because of rain, they had a 7-2 early season record including a 6 game winning streak. Eight of their nineteen games were battled out to the finish, the decision being two runs or less. Two of their games stretched into extra innings with the Jets winning both.

Pitcher Jill Carpenter set a new school record by striking out eight batters in one game. Junior, Tonya Smedley, set two new school records. She established a new batting average mark of .441 and her 30 hits in one season was also a new record.

The team compiled an overall season record of 10-9.

1. Lori Shearer slides in safely at third. 2. Pitcher, Jill Carpenter, delivers a pitch to the plate. 3. Catcher, Sherri Duffey, prepares to tag a North runner at home plate. 4. Lori Shearer shows good form at bat. 5. Kim Comer makes a spectacular catch in center field during the London Game. 6. Coach McCoy meets with Sherri Duffey and Jane Runyan.

In Recognition. . .

of Northeastern athlete Derrick Murray who through his prominent performances on sectional and district competition, earned a berth in the state cross country competition. The state event was held November 3rd at the O.S.U. golf course in Columbus, Derrick placed 27th among 54 runners.

As a sophomore, Derrick finished the 1979 season earning many awards and establishing himself as one of the top runners in the state.

The entire student body is proud that through Derrick's achievements, he has represented Northeastern and brought to our school and athletic program needed recognition.

Athletics for All in '79

To create extra athletic opportunities for Northeastern students, Mr. Murray composed an intramural program. Starting off the program was a basketball free-throw contest. A total of 135 participated in this event. After paying a 25¢ entry fee, each contestant was allowed twenty shots. High scoring students in each class advanced to the throw off. After the finals, freshman, Tonya Hensley was awarded a first place trophy for the girls, while senior Carl White took first place for the boys.

In the early spring, a volleyball tournament was organized. Students from each lunch period formed individual teams.

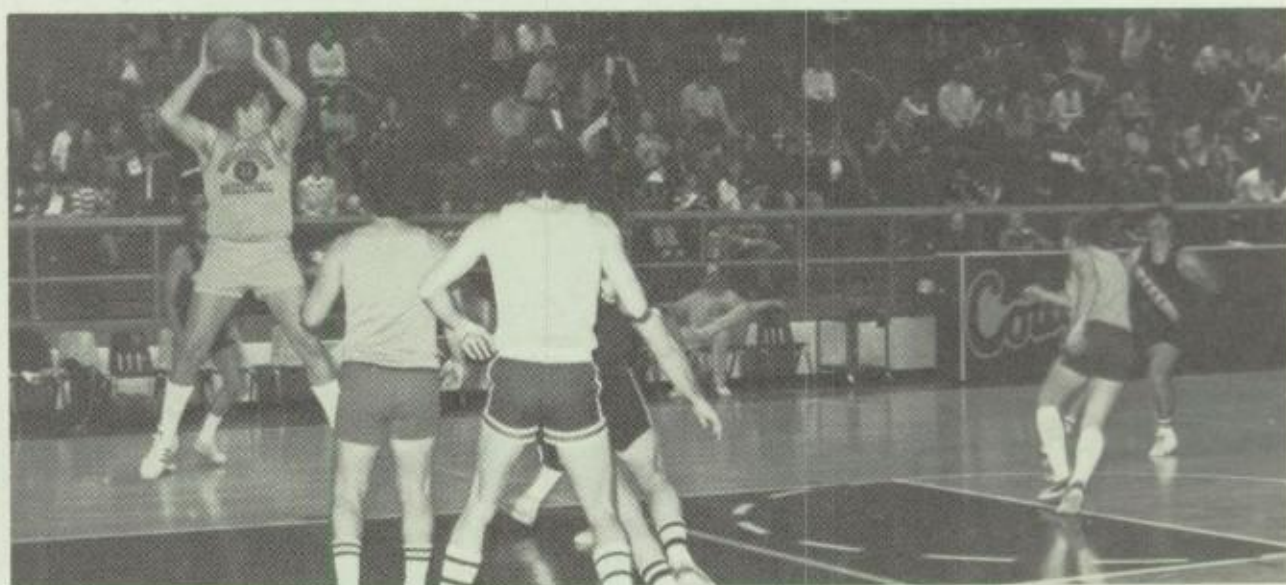

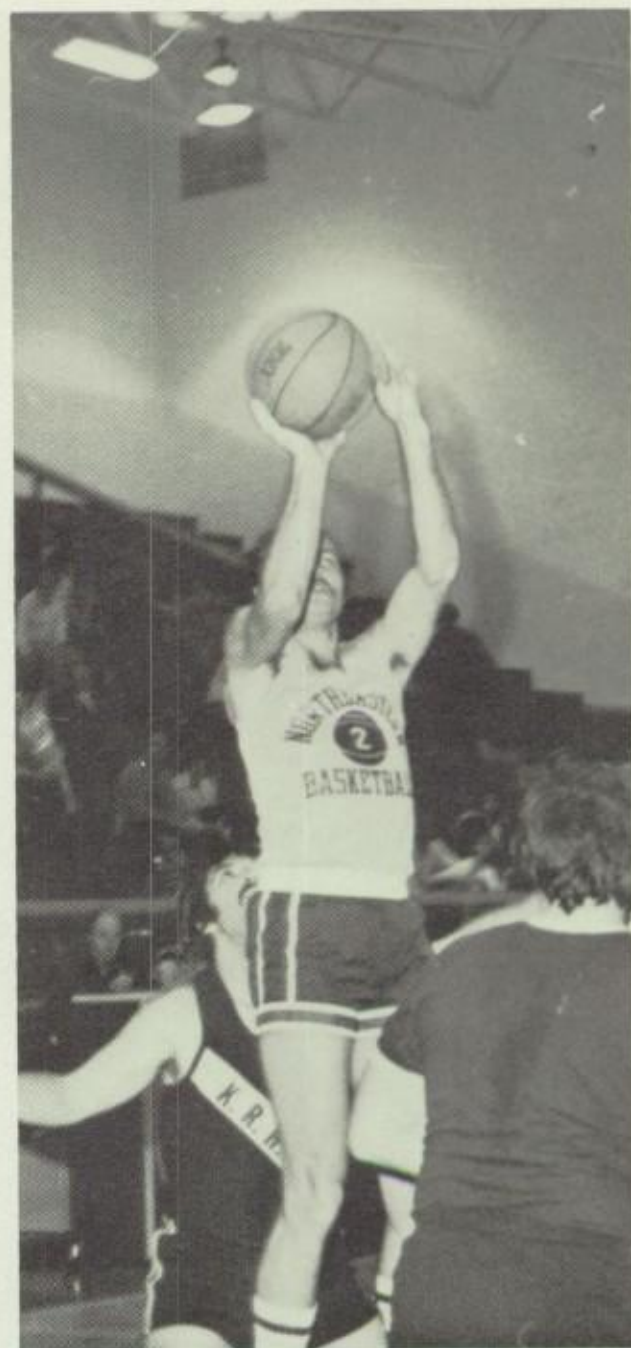

As the tournament ended, there remained two undefeated teams. The Slammin' Seven, Bob Winter-hoff, Perry Murphy, Toby Oberly, Steve Bennett, Clarke Falloon, Lloyd Alexander, and Roger Adkins won the fourth period tournament. The Undefeatables: Mary Kay Parrett, Mr. Klopfenstein, Kathy Kinney, Kathy Slygh, Shawn Murray and Missy Howard became the fifth period champs. Mr. Murray stated that the program would probably be continued next year.

Another event which aroused much spirit and laughter among students and teachers was the faculty basketball game.

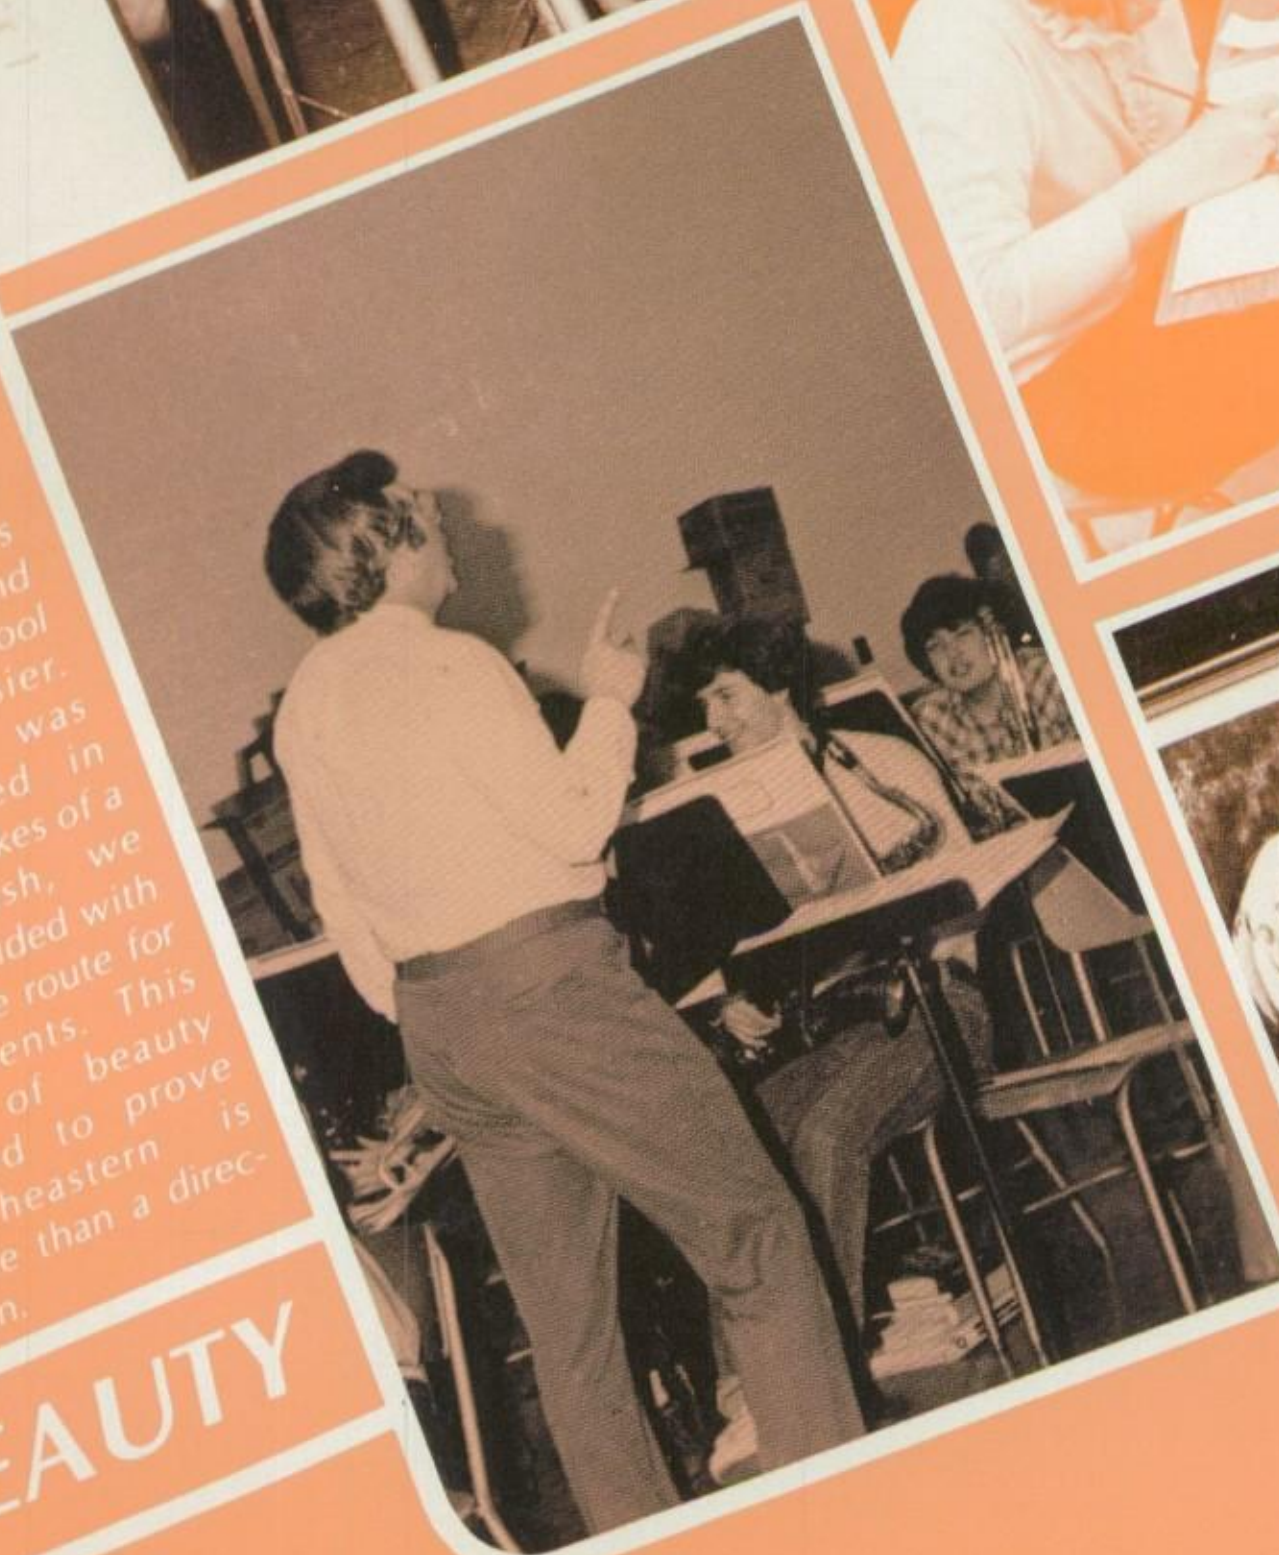

It was a cold January evening when our "Jet Staffers" battled the faculty of Kenton Ridge.

As the final buzzer sounded, the loyal crowd greeted the Jet squad with a standing ovation for their 61-56 victory over the Cougars.

Expressing our inner selves through music and art made our school year easier. Whether it was notes played in band or strokes of a paint brush, we were provided with an escape route for our talents. This form of beauty helped to prove Northeastern is more than a direction.

Band Has a Busy Year

The Marching Jets started a busy year with marching band practice August 14-18. After a week of hot, hard practice, under the supervision of Mr. Driever, band director, the band packed their bags and set out for Rio Grande College where they attended Band Camp. At Camp the band was out on a cold, wet field at six a.m. even though they were all undernourished and hungry.

The band boosted spirits at pep rallies, football games and the bonfire. During the halftime show of the last home game, the seniors performed their senior show to "Gospel John". On October 28, the Marching Jets competed in the Ponderosa Band Contest. The march-band season ended with the annual hayride held at the farm of John Runyan.

Starting off the Christmas season with something new, the band performed a Christmas concert with the Choir. In March, the Band played a concert with South Vienna's Bands. The Spring Concert was held May 17, along with the choir and art projects from the Art Classes. Ending the 1978-79 Band Season, the Jets marched with pride in the Springfield and Catawba Memorial Day Parades.

To raise money for new equipment, uniforms and outfits for something new for next year, the band did a lot of money-raising projects. The projects started during football season with the cheese and sausage sale. For the Ponderosa Contest, the band sold tickets to get in the contest and the tickets were also good for a discount. NE's band sold the most tickets out of the county bands which won them an extra $500. The Band Aids went together with the Boosters and held the second annual Auction and Raffle. In the spring, the band sold McDonald's Day tickets to promote McDonald's Day.

Choir Sings

The 1978-79 Northeastern Choir under the guidance of Mr. Roger Clary performed their skills at various functions. During the busy Christmas Season, the Choir made appearances at the Christmas Concert, caroling at Wrens downtown, and a Christmas party to complete the season's festivities. The group also made appearances at Open House, South Vienna School, National Honor Society's Induction Ceremony, Spring Concert, and Graduation Exercises.

Fund raising activities this year were candy sales and a car wash at Shoemaker's, South Vienna.

The choir also worked on a recruitment program, with Miss Homanick, next year's director, to increase the size of the choir for the 1979-80 school year.

Becky Lewis solos at the Christmas Concert.

Accompanist Bill Powell strums along at the Christmas Concert.

I MISS YOU.

As I sit here amongst these people whom I have shared the past twelve years of my life with,

A strange sensation overwhelms me and . . .
tears begin to trickle down my cheeks.

I MISS YOU ALL ALREADY

I remember how I use to dread entering this building every morning
But once inside, I'd see all your smiling faces, and though I sometimes hated this place,
You always made me feel at home in all your hearts.

I MISS YOU ALL ALREADY

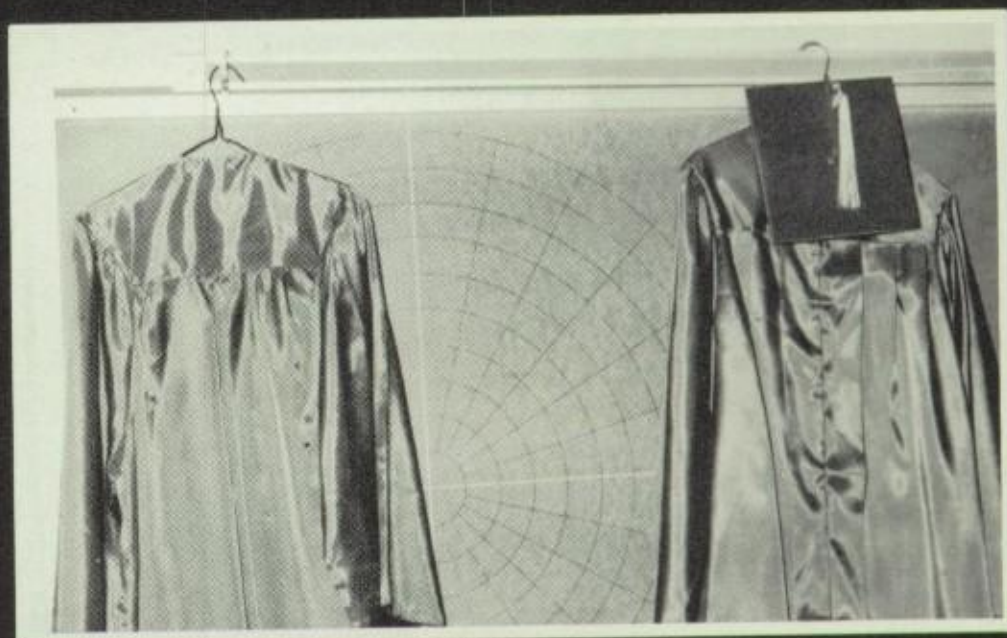

All the times I'd get so tired of seeing the same ol' faces day in and day out, never changing and I never appreciated all the warmth you had to offer.

I MISS YOU ALL ALREADY

Now the evening comes that I so dearly longed for,
and all I can do is tremble with fear, that when this ceremony is over,
and I walk out the door tonight
I may never see your beaming faces again.

I MISS YOU ALL ALREADY

But the night will pass and my tears will dry, and though not knowing what tomorrow will bring.
I am very thankful that you have showered me with all your friendship and enabled me to grow.

I LOVE YOU ALL, SO DEEPLY.

RIDGELY'S Strength is in its Personnel. Our policy of keeping ONLY people of integrity who feel that Satisfied Customers is our Most Important Product results in Superior Installations.

Nobody, BUT NOBODY, knows more about windows than the craftsmen at Ridgelys. Replacing those old worn out house windows or adding storm windows is done efficiently, quickly, and with no muss or fuss. RIDGELY'S sells integrity, comfort, experience, fuel savings; all those good things. Anybody can sell you the products we dispense, but nobody will give you more consideration with top quality merchandise and superior craftsmen installation.

JACK ROHRER — Pres., ROGER RUNYAN — 1st Vice Pres., JEAN STOUT — 2nd Vice Pres., PAT BROOKS — Sec., ELEANOR DUFFEY — Treas.

"The purpose of the Booster's Club is to support the Athletic Department and school functions in any endeavor that may require its assistance. This could be manpower, financial aid or whatever means it takes to make a student body and community project a success." Jack Rohrer — Pres.

Reaching Our Goal

The ending of a school year means many things to many of us. For some it means vacations, for others it means participation in summer sports, and for still others helping defray future college expenses by searching for part time employment. Hopefully, whatever our endeavor, the preceding school year will have better enabled us to face challenges that will be set before us.

A reflection upon this year reveals that even though goals weren't always in writing, we, the student body as a whole, charted our course and set our goals to make Northeastern more than a direction. While we realized that our aspirations were great and our goals could not be easily attained, we all felt it to be a labor of love and through unity of mind and spirit, we raised the name of Northeastern to be a school to be reckoned with both scholastically and athletically. We proved Northeastern is more than a direction.

Northeastern — (north-east-ern) our happenings; our people — our school.

As managing editor of the 1979 PILOT, I would like to express my most sincere appreciation to the section editors and staff members for their long hours of patience and work. It is this kind of cooperation that makes a yearbook possible.

I feel all of our editors are to be commended for their contribution, not only for the content of their offering but also for the quality.

There is always a struggle to meet deadlines, make sure pages are properly assigned and all is going smoothly. Frustration and aggravation fill the many hours spent preparing each page's layout. Many emotions are felt as a yearbook is being compiled, but the strongest felt emotion is pride. Pride in the fact that what you are doing will last a lifetime.

I hope this yearbook fills you with the kind of pride we felt as we worked. The year 1979 was your year and we have tried to capture the memories you have made.

Thanks to one and all for your devotion and work.
